DISCUSSION

The Cessna Aircraft Company has reviewed the various airplane systems, components, etc. and no known Year 2000 issues/problems have been identified on airplanes delivered from Cessna. Operators who have had their airplane configured by facilities other than Cessna should contact that facility or equipment manufacturer for additional guidance.

Because of the complexity of the Year 2000 problem and the interdependencies that exist between companies with varying degrees of Year 2000 readiness, it is not possible for any company, including The Cessna Aircraft Company, to represent or guarantee that its Year 2000 readiness program will be successful in every aspect.

For further information regarding Cessna Aircraft Company's Year 2000 program, please contact Fred Lassmann in Customer Services at 316-517-6689.
